The word 'HOME' is rendered in a large, hollow, sans-serif font. A stylized line-art illustration of a hand holding a laptop is positioned behind the letter 'O'. The hand is open, with fingers curled around the laptop. The laptop is open, showing a keyboard area with four small squares representing keys.

DaVita at Home:
Giving Patients The Opportunity To Dialyze at Home

Davita at Home

A few years ago, dialysis could only happen at a dialysis clinic which limited patients in their treatment options. Clinic locations were too far away and sometimes dialysis can take a long time during the day. Technology is always advancing and now patients can dialyze at home on their own time. Dialysis has come a long way!

It's important that the patient teams up with their doctors and the DaVita team when making the choice to go on home dialysis. Home dialysis can be an empowering choice for the patient.

DaVita at Home

Patients learn how to dialyze at a DaVita facility prior to going home and dialyzing on their own. The Home Dialysis Nurses and Patient Care Technicians teach the patient and a partner of their choice on how to safely perform their dialysis treatment.

The Patient does not have to worry though...

DaVita At Home Nurses will only be a phone call away if the patient has questions or concerns and they are available 24 hours and 7 days a week.

What's great about home dialysis is the patient won't have to miss the fun things anymore or give up their daily routine. It gives the patient more flexibility to dialyze when they have the time.

Home Dialysis allows the patient to enjoy the things they do on a daily basis like going for a bike ride, walking Roofus around the neighborhood, and spending time outdoors with their family.

The patient no longer has to be inconvenienced with travel time or going to a clinic for long periods of time. Even Papa can still enjoy his favorite chair and newspaper while dialyzing at home.
